On behalf of the Ocean County Vocational Technical School and the Board of Education, I am pleased to present the 2015-16 Annual Report. The pages of this report are a reflection of the growth and success of our students, staff, faculty and the district overall.

Over the years OCVTS has developed programs and services to keep pace with the technological advances and job-related skills of our global economy. We look to business and industry to understand trends so that we remain proactive in the education of our students to meet and exceed the expectations of their future employers. Our ongoing partnerships with businesses throughout Ocean County provide our students with valuable practical experience outside of their classrooms. We also continue to develop articulation agreements with area colleges which provide a seamless transition for students to continue their education and further their success.

We are proud of the many accomplishments of the past year:
- OCVTS students won 47 medals overall; 16 gold, 11 silver and 14 bronze at the New Jersey SkillsUSA Competition. The sixteen gold medal recipients advanced on to the SkillsUSA National Leadership Conference in Louisville, Kentucky.
- This school year, OCVTS students, both shared-time and full-time, were offered awards and scholarships in excess of $23,875,086.
- OCVTS Business Administrator Frank Frazee was named the New Jersey Business Administrator of the Year by the Association of School Business Administrators International (ASBO). Mr. Frazee was then recognized at the national level and received the 2016 Pinnacle of Achievement Award.

We recognize the Ocean County Vocational Technical School Board of Education, and the Ocean County Board of Chosen Freeholders for their continued support and guidance.

Remember, Life’s a Journey...Better Get Good Directions. Ocean County Vocational Technical School can be part of your journey toward a successful and rewarding career.

William P. Hoey, Jr.
Superintendent
The Ocean County Vocational Technical School’s Board of Education honored the Ocean County Training Center as the OCVTS 2015 Business Partner of the Year. Mr. Harold Morris, Director of the Training Center, accepted the award at the December OCVTS Board of Education meeting. The Business Partnership of the Year Award is sponsored by the New Jersey Council of County Vocational Technical Schools. Each of New Jersey’s 21 county vocational technical school districts recognizes an organization annually.

The Ocean County Training Center opened its doors in September 1998 as the home of Ocean County’s fire and first aid training facility. The OCVTS Law and Public Safety program is housed in the training facility, which is located in Waretown, NJ. The students, who attended career-specific classes for half of their school day, have received extraordinary training opportunities through the daily operations of the facility, observing professional training sessions, participating in drills and learning from guest speakers representing all areas of criminal justice professions.

September 2015 marked the inaugural year of the full-time OCVTS Academy of Law and Public Safety. Ocean County high school juniors and seniors can now receive all of the classes necessary for high school graduation integrated with criminal justice curriculum at the training center. Mr. Morris was instrumental in overseeing the construction of an addition to the facility, as well as creating a customized learning environment for the incoming students.

Ocean County Freeholder and OCVTS Liaison Joseph Vicari commented, “The interest in Law and Public Safety is increasing every year and it is important that we are able to address the need for quality education and provide students with opportunities that they cannot receive anywhere else. We recognize Mr. Morris and the Ocean County Training Center for the dedication to our students and thank you for your continued involvement in the district.”

Mr. Morris addressed the board, commenting, “It is a pleasure to work with Ocean County Vocational Technical School. I have gotten to know many of the administrators, the teachers and the students who attend classes and I see that the program is making a difference in their lives. The opening of the new addition and the full-time program provides outstanding opportunities for students who are looking for a career in Law and Public Safety.”

- In 2001 Ocean County Vocational Technical School launched the shared-time Law & Public Safety Program

- Homeland Security was added in 2011

- 87% of graduates* pursue further education at two-year and four-year colleges

- 8% serve in the military (all branches)

- 5% seek immediate employment

*Statistics based on graduate surveys of shared-time Law & Public Safety students since 2008
Frank J. Frazee, CPA, school business administrator for Ocean County Vocational Technical School, Toms River, NJ, has been recognized by the Association of School Business Officials International (ASBO) for spearheading the development of an innovative learning environment that provides opportunities for students to develop college- and career-ready skills. Through a unique partnership between the Ocean County Department of Parks and the Ocean County Vocational Technical School district, Mr. Frazee guided, coordinated and facilitated the complete renovation of the failing restaurant facilities at the county-run Atlantis Golf Course in Little Egg Harbor. The facility became the new home for the OCVTS adult culinary arts training program - Cuisine on the Green, the Ocean County Center for Culinary Arts.

Mr. Frazee had been named New Jersey’s Business Administrator of the Year for 2016 and his outstanding credentials and achievements then earned him recognition at the national level. Mr. Frazee and his family recently attended the Pinnacle Award Ceremony in Arizona, where he received the 2016 Pinnacle of Achievement Award.

Each year, the Pinnacle Awards are presented to four school business administrators from across the country, who have implemented innovative practices to improve the efficiency of schools and school districts and to make a difference in the education of young people.

Cuisine on the Green, the Ocean County Center for Culinary Arts is a training facility which opened to students on September 4, 2013 and restaurant operations began on September 25, 2013. Cuisine on the Green is a full service restaurant, bar & pub, and banquet facilities which provides intensive, comprehensive training. The facility is open seven days per week to the public. The curriculum includes classroom instruction, culinary skills training and working internships.

Mr. Frazee commented, “Each and every time I visit the Ocean County Center for Culinary Arts/Cuisine on the Green for a meeting, dinner with my family and friends, or as host of the District’s Foundations golf outing, I am amazed how far that the restaurant/culinary school has come. When I see people sitting at the bar, dining at a table, or the banquet facility holding an event facilitated by our students, I am so proud that we made a difference!

The Association of School Business Officials International (ASBO International) is an educational association of 4,500 members that supports school business professionals.
